

REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET.

For County Judge,
HAMILTON E. GREEN.
For County Clerk,
GEORGE P. HARDY.
For County Treasurer,
GEORGE M. WOOD.
For Superintendent Schools,
JOHN T. MONTGOMERY.

THE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

The November election is rapidly approaching, and the voters of Macon county will soon be called on to decide upon the men who shall serve them in the various county offices to be filled this fall. We have not burdened the columns of our paper very much with appeals in behalf of the candidates on the Republican ticket, feeling that they are too well and favorably known to require constant puffing at our hands, but a reference to the men and their merits will not be considered out of place at this time.

A somewhat familiar acquaintance with the politics of Macon county for the past twenty years warrants us in making the assertion that there has never been a ticket placed before our people in that time, by any political party, that had more of intrinsic merit, and less of objectionable material than the one put in the field by the late Republican county convention.

Every man on the ticket is peculiarly fitted for the discharge of the duties pertaining to the office to which he aspires. There is no question about the fitness of each and every one of them; neither can a word be urged against the moral character of any of the candidates. Judge Green, who has held the office of county judge for sixteen consecutive years, is so well adapted to the place, both by nature and training, that the people of this county can scarcely conceive of the office separated from the man. Beside being thoroughly conversant with all the requirements of the law pertaining to the office, and having a mind utterly free from the faintest suspicion of bias, he has the very clearest conception and the most perfect realization of the grave importance of his office. He has learned to recognize the fact that the material interests of the weakest and most helpless of all classes rest in a great measure upon the integrity and watchfulness of the court over which he presides. It is worth something to have such a man in such a place; it would be folly the most suicidal to dispense with the services of such an officer while they can as well be retained.

George P. Hardy, the candidate for county clerk, has resided in Illinois nearly all his life—the last twenty-five years in Decatur and its vicinity. During that time he has built up a reputation for integrity and uprightness that would be of value to any man. He has never held a county office, but for several years past has occupied a responsible position in our city government, and has discharged its duties well and faithfully. Audent, quick and obliging, he has every qualification necessary for the office of county clerk, and though that office has been well filled in the past it never had an incumbent who made a better officer than George P. Hardy will be.

George M. Wood, who has been re-nominated for county treasurer, has held the office one term, to the general satisfaction of the public. He has displayed an amount of care and good judgment in the discharge of his duties that are the best recommendations any man can offer in his own behalf. No county treasurer ever devoted his time more closely to the discharge of his duties, and while he might have filled the requirements of the law with less labor and trouble to himself, it would have been at the expense of those taxpayers who found the times too pinching to enable them to pay up before the day fixed for the annual tax sale. It has been Mr. Wood's custom to open the sale on the day fixed by law—as he was in duty bound to do—and after selling a few pieces to adjourn to a future day, in order to give people more time to pay their taxes and thus save the heavy costs incident to redemption. Nobody is injured by this for the sale is still legally made, if the taxes are not paid before the adjourned sale, but men in straitened circumstances are often accommodated very greatly. The people should bear this in mind when they come to vote for treasurer.

Our candidate for superintendent of schools, John T. Montgomery, is a young man of high reputation in educational circles. He has been engaged in teaching a number of years, and the best success has attended his labors. The people among whom he has taught are unanimous in their praises of him as a teacher and a gentleman. The teachers of the county, and others having business with the county superintendent, have frequently complained during the past four years of the difficulty they have experienced in finding the superintendent in his office. He resides some distance in the country, and the small salary attached to the office does not justify him in removing to the county seat. Consequently his office has frequently been closed, and much annoyance has been the result. The election of Mr. Montgomery, who resides here, would obviate this difficulty, while the election of his Democratic opponent would perpetuate it for another four years.

The ticket is worthy the support of every Republican in the county, and if we but do our duty it will be triumphantly elected.

Republican papers in New York insist that the approaching election in that State is not to determine the success or failure of the administration of President Hayes, nor to decide whether the Republican party supports or disapproves the so-called new Southern policy, but it is to decide whether Republicans or Democrats are to be elected to state offices; is to decide whether honest men shall be elected to office, or whether Tammany Hall and the Canal Ring shall enter upon an indefinite period of undisputed power.

Nothing the disorganization of the Republican party in Georgia, the New York Times says this may be the first step toward the immediate disruption of the Democratic party in the South, so much talked of by conservative gentlemen, but adds: "Unfortunately or otherwise, there are faithful, honest Republicans in all parts of the country who can not be convinced that such is the case."

GENERAL GRANT labored under an impression at Birmingham that fell on the free traders like a wet blanket. He dropped an incidental remark that "he had a kind of recollection that England had a protective tariff until her manufactures were established."

One hundred and seventy-five members of the House of Representatives are lawyers, and only eight doctors.

THE TEMPERANCE MEETING AT WARRENSBURG.

Monday Evening, October 22, 1877.

Mr. Conly, in the absence of E. J. Roberts, took the chair.
"Hold the Fort," was sung by the M. E. Choir.

Col. Taylor was then introduced. He discussed the injustice which the country people suffered by the licensing of saloons, illustrated by the murders that have taken place in Decatur lately, the country people being taxed the same as cities to prosecute the criminals, with which they had nothing to do.

He was followed by Bro. John A. Arnold, who spoke of his sufferings caused by his abstinence from stimulants. He asked for the prayers of those present to give him strength.

Bro. Ed. Moore then sang "The Drunkard's Dream," a song well suited to the occasion, and which was loudly applauded.

Bro. John Brynton gave some of his experience in drinking, extending back to his 15th year of age.

"Secure the Perishing," was then sung by the choir.

Bro. Ed. Moore spoke of the example one gave by doing wrong himself. He called on all those who had not signed the pledge to come and sign it, and identify themselves as gentlemen; also that every man in Decatur who wore the blue ribbon was their friend, and would always be so.

Bro. Hornbeck, pastor of the church, addressed the meeting. He spoke of his father, Curtis Hornbeck, being in the same regiment of which Bro. Moore's father was Colonel. He was glad to be able to speak after the son of Col. Moore, of whom his father had often told him.

"Yield not to Temptation," was then sung by the choir.

A call for signers was made; 38 new signers came up, making a total in this town of 145.

Officers were elected for a regular organization, to be called "The Warrensburg Temperance Alliance."

E. J. Roberts, President.
M. D. Hornbeck, Vice President.
Dr. C. A. McDonnell, Sec.
Anson Dillingham, Treasurer.
Bro. Conly, Chaplain.

The largest strike in the country at present is that of the cigar-makers in New York city. Thousands of the rollers of the fragrant weed are lying still and refusing to work for the wages paid to employees. There is no sign of compromise on either side of the controversy.

The value of the exports of produce from this country during the month of September last exceeded that of any previous month in our national or commercial history. The total was $30,677,425.

S. Einstein is selling good Muslin 16 yards for $1.00. (Oct 18-11w)

CAPT. WM. THOMPSON printed a card in the Natchez Democrat of Oct. 12th, addressed to the people of Jefferson county, Mississippi, and explaining why he has withdrawn as an independent democratic candidate for sheriff of that county. He says,

The present year, with its opportunity, seemed a fitting one for the undersigned, with others who shared his sentiments, to inaugurate a movement hostile to the methods of 'last year; and our desire was to have gone upon the stump, to have taken our chances in an open field, for the purpose of breaking up race lines, to urge upon the good people of the country to allow a division of sentiments, to appeal for free speech and civil liberty, as also to have denounced thievery and lawlessness. We proposed to do these things as democrats. In this, however, we have been thwarted, for, in a recent attempt to discuss these questions, freedom of speech was denied us, our own meeting was invaded, and the chairman of the democratic executive committee of the county in uniform, with shot-gun and pistol, the marshal of the democratic county organizations, armed and uniformed, with representatives of the different clubs of the county attending, obstructed themselves upon our meeting, and in defiance of all decency on such occasions, forbade quiet procedure. The gentleman who as independent was associated with me became satisfied from this, as from other causes, that a further attempt to continue the canvass would bring about bloodshed, and contrary to my wishes, I have withdrawn. A higher motive than that of fear for their personal safety actuated them; I am sure, and as far as I am personally concerned, I care nothing for the dangers of the campaign, but, as I am not gifted with the power of oratory, and as it was my desire to have had an open canvass, my associates having withdrawn, I deem it best also to withdraw. Justice, however, to my friends, as also to myself, compels me to second the declaration of many others, that the democratic party of this country means to rule it arbitrarily, and by foul means, if necessary, and that the terrorism of an oligarchy over the majority of the legal voters of the county is absolutely fixed and determined upon.

THE Washington Capital, edited by Donn Platt, a roaring democrat, thus describes Sam Randall, the new democratic speaker of the house of representatives:

His congressional career is a history of votes in behalf of Pennsylvania jobs, and a record of speeches that degrade politics to the level of the sample room. If the honorable speaker ever uttered a sentence containing an original thought or patriotic sentiment, such sentences have escaped us. If he ever introduced a measure above League Island or a navy yard, the country does not know of it. His aggressive mediocrity is offensive as his ignorance is profound. The South, recovered from the timidity that made every move a danger, demands her share of public plunder that only such a speaker could secure. The lobby, hungry, eager and bold, resembles to organize again, that it may see once more the gavel of the speaker made the hammer of an auctioneer, knocking down all a free people hold precious. The caucus has killed reform, and through all the sample rooms, restaurants, and hotels, the corruptionists hold high carnival.

A Record to be Proud of.

A splendid exhibit of republican administration is represented in Pennsylvania. Since the advent of republicanism in that state, the state debt has been reduced from $41,000,000 in 1861 to $22,000,000 at the present time, with assets maturing and pledged for the payment of $8,000,000 more, leaving a net indebtedness of only $14,000,000 to be provided for, showing an actual reduction under republican administration of $27,000,000. At this day not a dollar of state taxes is levied upon the real estate in the commonwealth. This is a record, which Pennsylvania republicans point to with a just and honorable pride.

BOILING SPRINGS.

The Temperance Alliance of Boiling Springs met for the first time with their new officers on Tuesday evening, Oct. 2. A number of visitors from Warrensburg were present.

The meeting was opened by singing and prayer by Elder Boyer.

President Lewis announced that the expected speaker from abroad had not made his appearance, and that we must depend upon home talent.

Elder Boyer then made a short speech, showing the relation of temperance to Christianity.

An item of business was brought forward by vice president Rife, which being disposed of, after another song S. Ritchie addressed the audience in a few stirring sentences.

Mr. Smith gave a few remarks, well chosen and well received.

After deciding to meet with the temperance people of Warrensburg at Fairview, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 23, the meeting adjourned. Com.

A Full Assortment of ladies' side lace kid and goat shoes—very cheap—at Oct. 10—d&wtf BARKER & BAKER'S.

The Great $10.00 Cambric Suit—the best and cheapest garment ever offered for sale, at Oct. 12—d3w B. STINE'S.

Organs to Rent, by C. B. Prescott. Office at Hand's book store, first door west of the Postoffice. June 30—d1f

TELEGRAPHIC. WASHINGTON.

Condition of the Louisiana Case.

Nominations Hanging Fire in the Senate.

Terrible Tragedy in England.

Fire and Loss of Life in a Mine.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—An explosion has occurred in the colliery at High Blantyre, near Glasgow. Four hundred men were in the mine and a large number killed.

Glasgow, Oct. 22.—The most intense excitement prevails over the colliery explosion. Exploring parties are endeavoring to get at the miners, but have little hopes of reaching any. The bottom of the pit is said to be full of dead bodies.

5.40 P. M.—A special train sent to bring the injured to Glasgow Infirmary has returned, no one having been got out alive. Twenty dead bodies have been recovered, and it is feared the entire four hundred in the colliery perished.

It is ascertained that the explosion occurred at 9 o'clock this morning. An exploring party had to relinquish their efforts in one pit this afternoon, because of poisonous gases. At the bottom of the shaft of the other pit a faint knocking has been heard, but so far it has been impossible to reach the bottom of that shaft.

LATER.—Explorers have resumed operations at the first pit. They report forty corpses lying at the foot of the shaft. The shaft at the bottom of which knocking was heard, is collapsing. The explorers consequently are attempting to reopen communication from the other mine. They have penetrated about half a mile, but still have 150 fathoms to clear, so they cannot possibly reach the men before morning. It is feared that by that time few, if any will remain alive.

Latest particulars from High Blantyre show that 233 men descended into the mines this morning. None of these, except one who was working near the shaft at the time, had been rescued up to a late hour this evening.

There is very little hope of rescuing the men.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—In the committee on privileges and elections, today, the action anticipated in these dispatches last night was fully carried out. On the claim of Spofford that his election was the only one which could be accepted as emanating from the legal legislature of Louisiana, Mr. Hill, of Georgia, offered a resolution to test the sense of the committee on the legality of this legislature, and it was decided to hear argument on that subject to-morrow.

The committee on foreign relations held a lengthy session to-day, in which the nomination of Noyes to Paris, Lowell to Spain, Kasson to Austria, Stevens to Norway and Sweden, Osborn to Chili, Hilliard to Brazil, Fish to Switzerland, and Langston to Hayti were considered. No action was taken on any of these nominations, save that of Langston, whose nomination will be reported favorably for confirmation. In regard to the others, the members of the committee express a desire to make further inquiry before taking definite action. It was admitted that there was no serious objection to any of the appointments, but that they intend to be in no haste as to their confirmation. The same disposition is felt in other committees towards the Executive nominations now pending. This is a part of the indifference with which the Republican senators regard the administration. In the absence of some understanding as to what position it intends to assume towards Republicans in the two branches of congress. A member of the administration remarked to-day that if the senate saw fit to reject any of the nominations they had a perfect right to do so, and others could probably be found to fill the places, but that congress must assume the responsibility. As the gentlemen nominated were both reputable and influential, and it would probably be discovered that there was some influence in the people at home, which is, perhaps, pre-eminent to that of those supposed to be their representatives.

Speaker Randall stated to-day that he would be ready to announce all standing committees on Thursday next. The reorganization has not yet sufficiently advanced to state with any decision the names of those who will constitute the more important ones.

The protracted and obstinate struggle over the Georgia marshland has at last reached a definite termination. The President, with all the papers advocating the claims of the fifty-nine applicants for this place, before him, has decided to appoint Mr. Fitzsimmons, a nephew of Wade Hampton, whose name will be submitted to the Senate during the present week.

COMING EVENTS.—Firemen's Tournament on Wednesday, Oct. 24th. Jehu Baker at the opera house, on Thursday, Oct. 25th. Election on Tuesday, Nov. 6th.

Gems of the Season.—In Lowell, Hartford, Glen Echo, and other superior makes of Ingrates, and English, French and American Brussels and Velvet Carpets, just received at Sept. 20—d&wtf LINN & SCRUGGS.

400 New Cloaks, elegant and cheap, just received at Sept. 27—d&wtf LINN & SCRUGGS.

Wanted.—A good second-hand light spring wagon and harness. Call at Lef-fingwell's store. 20 03

Sheriff's Sale.

BY VIRTUE OF ONE VENDITION EXPOSURE to me directed and delivered by the clerk of the Circuit Court of Macon county, Illinois, in favor of Jesse L. Fenton and Hattie Fenton, parties under the name and style of J. L. Fenton & Co., and against Joseph W. Harris & Co., and against Joseph W. Harris & Co., addition to the city of Decatur, in Macon county, Illinois. Taken as property of the said Joseph W. Harris, which I shall offer at public sale as the highest bidder of the Court House in Macon county, Illinois, on the 15th day of November, A. D. 1877, at 2 o'clock P. M. of said day, for cash in hand, to satisfy said execution. M. FORTMYER, Sheriff Macon county, Illinois. This 16th day of October, A. D. 1877. Oct. 22—d3w

Sheriff's Sale.

BY VIRTUE OF ONE VENDITION EXPOSURE to me directed and delivered by the clerk of the Circuit Court of Macon county, Illinois, in favor of John W. Hainey, Frank McElroy and Henry McElroy, parties under the name and style of Skelley & Co., and against Joseph W. Harris & Co., addition to the city of Decatur, in Macon county, Illinois. Taken as property of the said Joseph W. Harris, which I shall offer at public sale as the highest bidder of the Court House in Macon county, Illinois, on the 15th day of November, A. D. 1877, at 2 o'clock P. M. of said day, for cash in hand, to satisfy said execution. M. FORTMYER, Sheriff Macon county, Illinois. This 16th day of October, A. D. 1877. Oct. 22—d3w

Chancery Notice.

STATE OF ILLINOIS, ss. MACON COUNTY, ss. In the Circuit Court to the December Term, A. D. 1877. James W. Wilton vs. Cullins Dunbar, Anna Dunbar, Harriet Wilton, Sarah Gurnea, Anna Smith, Charles Smith, Ruth Dunbar, John L. Smith, Jacob H. Bell, Benjamin E. Nelson, Almira E. Nelson, Charles E. Nelson, James M. Nelson, U. S. Grant Nelson, Charity E. Nelson, Nancy M. Grant, Charles E. Nelson, Marinda Pugh, John Pugh, Nancy M. Dunbar, James H. Milson, Frederick W. Schwartz, John Dunbar and Jane Dunbar. D. 1877.

PRAYED that the non-residence in the State of Illinois of the above defendants, Frederick W. Schwartz, Cullins Dunbar, Harriet Dunbar, John Dunbar, Jane Dunbar, Charles Smith, Marinda Pugh and John Pugh, and alia, that the residence, whereabouts or possible address of Benjamin E. Nelson, be known, and that upon due and diligent inquiry his place of residence or postoffice address cannot be ascertained, having been filed in the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court of Macon county, Illinois, Notice is hereby given to the said defendants, that the said complaint, in the above cause, that the said defendants in the above cause, have heretofore filed in said court a bill of complaint against you, the said non-residents, in said cause, as well as that a summons in said cause has been issued against you, the said defendants, and other defendants as well, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon and State of Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, which said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendants, Frederick W. Schwartz, Cullins Dunbar, Harriet Dunbar, John Dunbar, Jane Dunbar, Charles Smith, Marinda Pugh, John Pugh, Benjamin E. Nelson, and each and every one of you, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that a summons has been issued therein against you, the said Henry H. Jones, defendant in the above cause, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and that said cause is still pending in said court.

Now, unless you the said defendant, Henry H. Jones, shall personally be and appear before the said court on the first day of the next December Term, to-wit: A. D. 1877, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in the county of Macon, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December next, A. D. 1877, and plead, answer or demur to the said complaint, and that

